

VAUGHN COLLEGE OF AERONAUTICS AND TECHNOLOGY

Transfer of Credit Policy for Applicants to the AAS Degree in Airport Management with the Air Traffic Control-Collegiate Training Initiative Concentration

Applicants who hold an academic associates or bachelors degree in business administration or a related major, from a regionally accredited college or university, are eligible to earn an associates of applied science degree in Airport Management by completing the 10 courses listed below. Students who successfully complete the stated courses will earn a degree from Vaughn College and, providing they meet all other Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) requirements (including, but not limited to US citizenship), will receive the formal recommendation required by the FAA in order to apply for a position as an air traffic control specialist. All 10 courses must be completed while attending Vaughn College of Aeronautics and Technology.

General Aeronautics

Airport Planning and Administration

Airport Operations and Management

Aviation Law

ATC Weather

Aviation Safety

Air Traffic Control I

Air Traffic Control II

Industry and Labor Relations

Capstone Degree Project

Applicants who hold an associates or bachelors degree in a major other than business administration (or similar) are also eligible to earn an associate of applied science degree in Airport Management by completing the 10 specific courses listed above (also offered on Vaughn's campus). However, those students must complete the following courses before enrolling in the program:

Pre-calculus

Introduction to Management or Introduction to Business

Principles of Accounting or Calculus

Financial Management

Principles of Economics

Students who have received a "C" or better in any of the above courses (or logical equivalents) while engaging in undergraduate study at a regionally accredited college or university will not have to retake those courses in order to attend Vaughn College. It should be noted that these courses are also offered at Vaughn College.

Students who would like additional information regarding their specific degree and prerequisite requirements should contact admitme@vaughn.edu for a personal consultation. The Admissions Office may request official transcripts before making a final determination.
